The Lost Star

A story about trust, friendship, and the magic of helping.

Sometimes, the smallest encounters can light up an entire world. One evening, Martina discovers that even something born among the stars may need a helping hand to find its way home.

Along winding stone paths, past flowers that seem to keep secrets, a tiny light begins an adventure about facing the unknown and finding courage when someone is by your side.

The Lost Star invites young readers to discover that asking for help is not a weakness—and that a little kindness can help someone shine again.
